

STROMBOLI

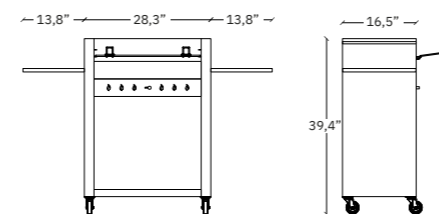

The barbecue

Stromboli is the elegant and functional charcoal barbecue made completely in stainless steel aisi 304, for a longer life and better hygiene.

The basket formed brazier is separated from the structure itself, to avoid that the external parts heats up too much and burnish. In the front you find a large and sliding ash drawer with an adjustable air intake that eases the lightening and the maintenance of the fire.

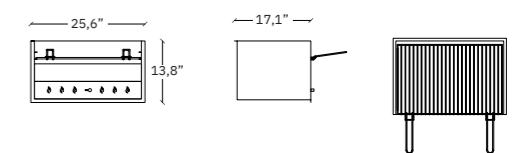

The side shelves and the lower level are comfortable supports for the cook.

Available in the free standing version on wheels and in the built-in version, equipped with two cooking levels.
